The Andalusian capital exudes joy and bustle in each of the streets and squares that make up its historic center, which houses an interesting set of buildings declared World Heritage and neighborhoods of deep popular flavor, such as Triana or La Macarena.

Museums and art centers, theme parks, cinemas, theaters and party halls are just some of the infinite possibilities of leisure that a great city like Seville offers. MUSEO DE CARRUAJES

Plaza de Cuba, 10 – Sevilla

<http://www.museodecarruajes.es>

We are in the Old Convent of Los Remedios, on the banks of the Guadalquivir, in the then suburb of Triana and in front of the San Telmo Palace, former School of Navegantes.

The building was built on an old hermitage in which the Virgen de los Remedios was venerated. Alonso de Morgado in his History of Seville of the year 1574, speaks of the foundation of this hermitage in 1540. Accessing from the Plaza de Cuba, we find the main patio. A space dominated by the great portico of access to the building and dotted with orange trees and vines.

The paved floor, the walls of white lime, the arcades and the prominent trellis, give the patio a singular beauty, making it the star of receptions, snacks and in some cases, the thickness of the event itself.

A distribution with tables of support, live music, catering, etc., make it a space of sumo attractive. Crossing the patio, we access the interior of the covered building, finding us the first room, the Yellow Room.

MUSEO DE CARRUAJES

Plaza de Cuba, 10 – Sevilla

The Carriage Museum of Seville began its journey on October 17, 1999 with the purpose of integrating itself into the cultural circuit of the city, making known to the public the exciting world of the horse-drawn carriage. The sample presented is varied in types, with a staging that makes the exhibition a real recreation for the senses of any visitor. In addition to the visit to the exhibition and the building, we offer different spaces where you can make exhibitions or any type of activity artistic, meetings, cocktails, shows, etc., all in a unique environment, the world of the Sevillian convent of the sixteenth century. A perfect place to celebrate your event.

As a center for the celebration of events, the museum has an ideal distribution. Each room offers a full range of possibilities that make them unique.

Combined, the options multiply exponentially and it is, then, when the building becomes a true center of events. The rooms are communicated consecutively, so the complex itself adapts to the dynamics of your event, creating a perfectly organized showcase in the different spaces.

On the right you can see a floor plan with the layout of the building.

DAY 3 – SUNDAY OCTOBER 27TH

Breakfast at the hotel

OPTIONAL

Visit to Plaza de España and Alcázar with local guide (minimum 15 people in the same language)

There is a place in Seville that is an oasis of peace amid the hustle and bustle that the centers of big cities "suffer". A good place to escape and let the mind go back to a past of quiet and contemplative life. We are talking about the Real Alcázar, a monument of exceptional beauty surrounded by some of the attractions of the beautiful city of Seville, a place where getting lost is in itself a unique experience. It was declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO in 1987 and has been the scene of the filming of movies and TV series as a game of Thrones. It is an unmissable event on your trip to Seville and an essential point to get to know the fusion of cultures that have passed through the city.
